5EXPLANATORY NOTES

This application form has been designed as a multipurpose form. Fees and charges will vary according to type of search requested.

Building Plans

Council will search its files for approved building plans in relation to a property and provide a copy of the plans to the applicant. No building plans are available for buildings approved before 1965. A search fee is not payable however, photocopying or plan printing charges may apply. You will be advised of any charges applicable when you receive the plans.

Household Internal Drainage

Council will search its files for details of household drainage lines which carry wastewater to the reticulated sewerage system or septic disposal system (septic tank etc). A copy of the plan will be provided. A fee is payable for preparing the plan in accordance with Council's current "List of Fees, Charges and Rentals".

Subdivision Potential – Rural Areas

Council will carry out a search to determine only whether the legal ability exists for Council to approve of a subdivision in a rural zone under the provisions of its local environmental plan. This is a preliminary search only and no irrevocable decisions should be made upon such advice. A full assessment of Council's legal ability to approve the subdivision will only be made upon lodgement of a subdivision application. At this time other considerations (eg. access, natural risks, environmental effects etc.) must be taken into account. The legal ability to approve the subdivision does not guarantee approval. A formal development (subdivision) consent is the only guarantee that Council will as per conditions of development consent permit a subdivision of the land. Payment of Councils "General Property Information" fee must be paid with the application. Should the time taken to research the information exceed one hour, an additional charge will be made on a per hour basis.

Development Consent

Council will search its records to determine whether development of the land has been granted development consent. A copy of the consent will be supplied to the applicant. A search fee is not applicable in this instance, however photocopying charges may apply.

Outstanding Conditions of Development Consent

This advice usually requires an inspection of the premises. It is not recommended that such information be requested until it is established whether a consent has been issued and what conditions were attached. In some cases it will be obvious whether the conditions have been met without paying for an inspection.

An inspection fee will be charged in accordance with Council's current List of Fees, Charges and Rentals. Payment will be required with the application.
