PRIVATE FUNCTIONS ON PUBLIC RESERVES

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

1. Do I need to make a booking?

Shoalhaven's parks and beaches form part of Council's public reserve network, and are popular venues for many events or functions and community functions/ events. We know how important your function is and making a booking is the best way to ensure no other booked functions are taking place in the same location, at the same time. Parks and beaches that can be booked are detailed via this link to Council's application form for private events on public reserves: (application and internet link to be provided after draft policy is finalised).

However, if you are having a small, passive function of up to 50 people, and meet the relevant provisions of Council's Private Functions on Public Reserves Policy, and you don't want to book a reserve, then you do not need to make a booking.

2. Are all Shoalhaven parks and beaches managed by Council?

Not all Shoalhaven parks and beaches managed by Council. Information to help you understand what is a small, medium and large private event is provided in Council's policy which can be found at the following link: Private functions on Public Reserves Policy

5. How much does it cost and what is the bond for?

Private functions of up to 50 people must comply with the Council's policy which can be found at the following link: Private functions on Public Reserves Policy. These types of functions do not require an application and do not incur a cost.

Private functions which wish to book a reserve identified in the Private functions on Public Reserves Policy and/or the function is over 50 people are required to pay a fee and bond. The fee and bond is required to cover Council's costs of administering the service, address any damage caused to a public reserve as a direct result of a private function and to encourage and ensure compliance with the Terms & Conditions issued in a permit for use of a public reserve.

6. How long can I use a park or beach for my function?

Small and medium functions are limited to a 3 hour duration. . This timeframe is inclusive of set up, pack up and the function itself. We ask that you please do not set up the area earlier than your booking time, as there may be other bookings on the same day.

No. Your booking does not allow exclusive use of the entire public reserve or for an area to be physically cordoned off from the public. Whilst Council staff are happy to consider and assist with your reserve booking application, their expertise in wedding planning is limited and additional information may need to be sought from a professional wedding planner.

22. How should I leave the public reserve at the end of my function?

To ensure your function has minimal impact on the reserve you must leave it in the same condition as when you arrived and remove all associated waste. If you leave the area damaged or littered, there may be a fee taken from your bond commensurate with the impact and cost to Council to reinstate the area to the original condition.

23. What happens if another function is in close proximity to my function?

Multiple functions can occur on some reserves, especially larger ones. Please respect other functions and in turn the other functions should respect your use of the public reserve also.
